

Why support WATHI

If, like us, you want to effect change in West Africa, join and support WATHI!

If, like us:

You find aberrant the fact that West African countries are increasingly powerless in the face of insecurity and violence;

You do not understand why and how public health, education, urban transport, and social protection systems have collapsed in some countries of the region, and are struggling in all countries of the region to keep pace with population growth;

You find it outrageous that only the wealthiest can provide their children with quality education in costly private institutions starting in primary school, because nobody believes in public institutions anymore;

You think that the obsession with fast individual accumulation of wealth by all means is a cancer that is slowly killing our countries and societies;

You think the commitment and will to do well is no longer sufficient in a complex, global and profoundly unequal world, and we must also invest heavily in the creation and dissemination of knowledge and know-hows;

You think it is worth giving a little of your time and money to support projects that actually change the lives of thousands of people, but you also know that we must equally tackle structural problems hindering the capacity of our people to give the best of themselves;

Then you have every reason to join the Wathi community by registering on the website www.wathi.org, and you have every reason to financially support Wathi.

WATHI wants to put its existence and its action on a long-term footing. To do so, we need freedom, integrity and independence. That is why we want to emphasize the participatory and popular financing model in our resource mobilization strategy.

That is why we need the support of each and every one of you, regardless of your means. That is why we need you to believe, as much as we do, in our ability to change the present and the future by primarily counting on our collective intelligence and resources.
